

Georgia Transplant Foundation

Enriching Lives Everyday

Dear Friends,

This is the 20th year I have partnered with the Georgia Transplant Foundation to raise awareness for organ donation as well as raising funds to support the transplant community in Georgia.

My wife, Chris and I continue to be amazed by the challenges and triumphs of families affected by transplantation and the life-changing support they receive through the Georgia Transplant Foundation. As parents, it's an awesome feeling to be in the presence of the many children who are alive today because of transplantation.

It is a awesome responsibility when one realizes that someone had to die in order to save another's life. How do you thank someone for giving you the ultimate gift of life? My feeling is that you show your gratitude by living the best life you can; taking care of the precious gift you have been given.

I have always believed in living a healthy lifestyle. Sports have been a huge part of my life and I have brought my children up to have the same belief. They would rather be out on the playing field....ANY playing field as opposed to being indoors! I applaud the life style choices of Dylan and his altruistic nature that would lead him to becoming an organ donor. A scholarship in his name is a fitting tribute to Dylan and his beliefs. Thank you for supporting this worthy cause.

I am humbled by the number of lives enriched by GTF and am thrilled that I have been successful in both promoting the importance of organ donation and continuing to increase the dollars raised.

If you would like to learn more about the Georgia Transplant Foundation, check out the website at www.gatransplant.org or if you are interested in getting involved in my event, Spring Training, call Pat Rotchford at 678-514-1173.

Sincerely,
